

Construction Update for August and September 2007

Most of the volunteer work done in July and August consisted of painting Sunday rooms and hallways. Over 120 gallons of paint have been used to prime and paint walls and ceilings throughout the church. During the summer, many of our teachers, college professors and teenagers were able to volunteer with the painting.

All the Sunday school rooms look so much brighter and cleaner.
This makes for happy children and Sunday school teachers.

The Fellowship Hall looks nice too with the walnut casings and new windows.

Dean swings the sledgehammer to remove the swings and jungle gym from the playground.

Stumps were removed from the parking lot.

In September, the secretaries' office was Sheetrocked, painted and trimmed out with new baseboard and crown molding. They do not have any heat for the winter, but the room will look nice. Vents for the heat in that room will be installed next summer when that area of the church gets a new entrance and elevator.

Roger and Dennis install furring strips before Sheetrock.

Roger installs the lighting.

Earl and David install crown molding in the office.

Fresh paint and crown molding puts smiles on the secretaries' faces.
